FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

February 1, 2011

FILM STARS AND ON-AIR PERSONALITIES JOIN FORCES WITH AUTISM CARE AND TREATMENT FOR HISTORIC EVENT BENEFITING MILITARY CHILDREN WITH AUTISM

The ACT Today for Military Families (ATMF) 5k/10k Run and Festival will be held in San Diego, California on April 2, 2011.

February 8, 2011 - SAN DIEGO, CA Actors Mark Lawrence Christopher ("Terminator: 2", "Pursuit of Happyness", TV sitcom "Chuck") and Kyle Massey ("Corey in the House", "Dancing with the Stars", 2010 Runner Up) along with KGTV's Kerstin Lundquist and Steve Atkinson, and Sophie@103.7 announce they will co-host Autism Care and Treatment Today's (ACT Today!) inaugural ACT Today! for Military Families (ATMF) Run and Family Festival on Saturday, April 2, 2011. The event will be held on Fiesta Island, in San Diego.

"We are thrilled to have these celebrities co-host this special event," says ACT Today!'s Executive Director Nancy Alspaugh-Jackson. "Their generous support of the cause and their passion is inspiring. We hope the community will come out and enjoy a fun-filled day that will build autism awareness, and raise funds to help military children with autism get the necessary tools they need to reach their highest potential."

According to Department of Defense data, it is estimated that 1 in 88 military children have autism. Autism is a complex neurological disorder. Research shows, in the treatment of autism, early intervention and intensive behavioral therapy are imperative to success. The continuum of care afforded to military children diagnosed with autism is disjointed and compromised due to frequent geographic moves and lack of effective services available publicly and through existing healthcare programs.

"The emotional and financial challenges autism brings to the military family are very personal to me," says Karen Driscoll, Marine wife, mother of a son with autism, and ACT Today! for Military Families National Campaign Director. "ACT Today for Military Families works to help lighten the load many of our brave military families carry today."

Corporate sponsors of the event (as of February 7, 2011) include: ONEHOPE Wine, Center for Autism and Related Disorders, Inc. (CARD), Ralph's, TriWest Healthcare Alliance, Allied American University, Granite Investment Funds and Sophie@103.7. Sponsorship opportunities are still available by contacting Laura Marroquin at Laura@act-today.org.

Team and individual registration for the run/walk/wheelchair event is now open. Registration fees start at $10. Register online at www.acttodayformilitaryfamilies.kintera.org. A free family festival with resource and wellness booths, food, live concerts, celebrity appearances, and more will round out the day's festivities. Submissions for entertainment and VIP/celebrity participation should contact Daphne Plump at Daphne@act-today.org.

ACT Today! (Autism Care and Treatment Today!), is a national non-profit organization whose mission is to raise awareness and provide treatment services to families that cannot afford the treatments and services their children require. Recognizing the extraordinary challenges military families experience (waging a battle on two fronts - one for their country and another for their children), ACT Today! for Military Families (ATMF) is a dedicated fund to assist military families impacted by autism. ATMF works to improve awareness and delivery of effective autism services, and provides financial assistance to military families to help defray out-of-pocket costs associated with autism treatments and other quality of life programs.
